Participation Requirements
of
The Quality Control Training Course
[QCTC]

20 February – 7 March 2025

1. BACKGROUND OF THE PROGRAMS:

The Association for Overseas Technical Cooperation and Sustainable Partnerships (AOTS) is an organization for human resources development mainly in overseas countries to promote technical cooperation through training, experts dispatch and other programs. Through those programs, we aim at contributing to the mutual economic growth of developing countries and Japan as well as enhancing friendly relations among those countries.

AOTS was established in 1959 with the support of the Ministry of International Trade and Industry (which is the present Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry: METI) as Japan's first technical cooperation organization on a private sector basis. More than 200,000 individuals from 198 countries and regions have undergone our training in Japan, while the cumulative attendance at our overseas programs till the end of fiscal 2022 exceeded 230,000.

AOTS organizes and develops a various range of training courses based on requests from returning participants and industry in developing countries.

The Quality Control Training Course (QCTC) will focus on Total Quality Management (TQM), a business management method to maintain and improve the quality of corporate activities. The purpose of this course is to deepen understanding of TQM as practiced by Japanese companies, to understand the proper way to promote TQM and quality management activities and the roles of company owners or managers, and to improve problem-solving skills from a QC perspective.

2. COUNTRY:

Please refer to “[Appendix 4] List of Target Countries and Regions” of this program outline.

Those who reside in the countries listed in the table and are recommended by AOTS's Overseas Collaborative Organization or able to apply from a Japanese company located in Japan may apply.

3. NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS:

5. OUTLINE OF THE PROGRAM:

- OBJECTIVES

This course will focus on Total Quality Management (TQM), a business management method to maintain and improve the quality of corporate activities. The purpose of this course is to deepen understanding of TQM as practiced by Japanese companies, to understand the proper way to promote TQM and quality management activities and the roles of company owners or managers, and to improve problem-solving skills from a QC perspective.

- KEY BENEFITS

- (1) To gain an accurate understanding of the fundamentals of TQM activities practiced by Japanese companies.
- (2) To develop a clear awareness of the roles of managers in promoting TQM activities.
- (3) To develop the ability to make practical use of the mechanisms and techniques required in promoting TQM.

- CONTENTS

[First Step]

Participants will first learn the concept of TQM, approaches to its promotion, and gain an overview of the QC mindset and viewpoints.

[Second Step]

Participants will deepen their understanding of Japanese company's strengths by studying systematically "daily management and management by policy (Hoshin Kanri)", "production system", and "human resource development by QC Circles" through lectures, exercises (case studies and simulations), and company visits.

[Third Step]

Participants will learn "problem-solving and continuous improvement (Kaizen)" systematically from the viewpoint of QC through the practical exercises called "QC Ball Game*" utilizing measurement data. They will recognize their role in promoting TQM to overcome the challenges of their companies after returning their countries.

* QC Ball Game

A group exercise in which participants learn the QC problem-solving approach while satisfying their competitive spirit (and sense of fun) by playing a simple ball game (see the following photos).

<Characteristics of the Ball C Game>

- Similar to putt-putt golf or pachinko, it stirs up the competitive spirit of participants.
- It has a simple mechanism, and there are many ways to roll the ball, so there is a lot of room for improvement.
- Because it eliminates the "human" element, it is easy to understand the approach to standardizing the equipment. It is easy to get results.

- Anyone can participate on an equal basis. There are no technical terms.
- Participants can put the QC story into practice using real data. They can repeat the process as necessary.
- Participants can use the seven QC tools and easily understand them.
- Participants can experience the principles of work in the “actual thing”, “reality” and “site”.
- Participants can experience in-depth analysis that asks “why” and “how” in a short time.
- Training can be provided according to the abilities of each participant.

Beginner class: Learn how to use QC methods and approaches in each step of the QC story.

Intermediate class: Participants who can use QC techniques solve problems in line with the QC story.

Advanced class: Participants solve problems on their own, given a theme.

*Participants will gain theoretical knowledge in the morning sessions and learn how to put such theory into practice in the afternoon sessions with case studies and simulations. The curriculum focuses on “what individual participants, as managers/supervisors/staff promoting TQM/quality control, should do and how”, so that what they learn in the course will be immediately applicable when they return to their own companies.

The course will usually consist of three hours in the morning and three hours in the afternoon. Group Discussion may take place in the evening. Please see the Tentative Schedule for further details.

- DURATION

Thursday 20 February – Friday 7 March 2025 (16 days)

- LANGUAGE

All lectures, discussions, and company visits and exercises will be conducted in English or Japanese with translation into English. In principle, the program documents and training materials will be prepared in English.
